PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, we are now approaching the anniversary of the time when the Pilgrim Fathers paused in the midst of harder times than we will ever know, and joined together to think of such blessings as they had and express their gratitude to God, and

WHEREAS, in these days when much of our state is still battling drouth and the effects of grasshopper invasion, we still have cause to give thanks that our ranks have not been depleted by epidemic nor by the attacks of hostile peoples, and

WHEREAS, it is vitally important in such times of stress that we keep in mind the fact that love of home and fireside, the force that has sent soldiers into battle through the ages, is still the great cohesive force we can count on to hold the state and nation on an even keel in times of peace,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Leslie Jensen, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby call upon the people of this state to observe Thursday, November 25, 1937, as a day of thanksgiving and praise, and I urge that on that day families reunite and count over the benefits of freedom and health and home, and dedicate themselves to battle ahead to and the better days that are in sight for South Dakota.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota to be hereto affixed.

DONE AT THE CAPITOL, in the City of Pierre, this 16th day of November, 1937.

ATTEST: Secretary of State. (GREAT SEAL) Governor.
